

Boarding School Scholarships for Military Children

Application Season Open NOW for Fall 2024 enrollment

If you are the child of an active duty (active component) US military service person, but you don't want to change schools during your high school years due to your parent's military orders, you can apply to Orion Military Scholarships for the opportunity to attend a top US boarding school for a stable, uninterrupted high school experience.

Through a combination of merit scholarship funding, financial aid, and enrollment assistance, Orion Military Scholarships helps military children apply to and enroll in top US boarding schools that support military families. The stable education provided by Orion's partner schools helps military children stop moving, so they can start thriving.

- Eligible applicants are currently in 8th or 9th grade, from active component US Army, Navy, Air Force, Marine Corps, Coast Guard, or Space Force families of any rank, at any location
- To apply, go to <https://www.orionmilitary.org/how-to-apply>
- Online application package includes the following:
